The Muslim Brotherhood expresses its sincere condolences to the Iraqi people & the families of the victims in the #Mosul ferry disaster, which killed more than 100, most of them women & children. May God accept them as martyrs & heal those who were injured in this tragedy.

The Muslim Brotherhood is a transnational Sunni Islamist movement that seeks to implement sharia (Islamic law) under a global caliphate. Founded in Egypt in 1928, the Brotherhood is that country's oldest Islamist organization and has branches throughout the world. While these branches operate under a variety of names and use a variety of social, political, and occasionally violent methods, they share a commitment to the overarching goal of establishing rule according to sharia. The Muslim Brotherhood unequivocally condemns the recent statements by the US President, which is a flagrant violation of all international and UN resolutions, including Security Council resolution 497 of 1981, which won an international consensus and stressed the whole world's rejection of Zionist Israel's decision to grab Syria's Golan Heights, declaring that decision null and void, and affirmed that the...
In Egypt, the Muslim Brotherhood—a Sunni Islamist religious, political, and social movement—is, or was, considered the largest, best-organized political force in Egypt, with adherents estimated to number between 2 and 2.5 million. Founded in Egypt by Hassan al-Banna in March 1928, the group spread to other Muslim countries but has its largest, or one of its largest, organizations in Egypt, despite a succession of government crackdowns in 1948, 1954, 1965, and 2013 after plots, or alleged plots, of the Muslim Brotherhood, or al-Ikhwan (the Brothers) is a Middle Eastern religious and political movement whose stated goal is to instil the Qur’an and Sunnah as the “sole reference point for ordering the life of the Muslim family, individual, community, and state.” Unlike Salafis, the movement officially supports the use of democracy and scorns the use of violence to achieve its means, although that doesn’t mean all members follow suit; it has, in the past, been home to a militant wing known as the Muslim Brotherhood. The Muslim Brotherhood was founded by an Egyptian schoolteacher, Hassan al-Banna, in 1928. At that time, there was a fascination among the literati of the Middle East, and around the world, with Leninism and their communist vanguard. Muslim Brotherhood is considered the first politically active and largest Islamist organization. The Muslim Brotherhood's ideology, which insists that Islam is a prescription for governance as well as religion, is the prototypical example of Islamism. Their slogan is self-explanatory: "God is our purpose, the Prophet our leader, the Qur'an our constitution, Jihad our way and dying for God's cause our supreme objective. Different factions of the Muslim Brotherhood believe that an Islamic society can be achieved by violent means in the near term, or by education and "preparation" of society and "democratic" takeover. The Muslim Brotherhood came up frequently during the GCC rift. Here is a breakdown of the group's ideology and roots. The Muslim Brotherhood (MB) has been in the news lately as one of the reasons behind the current diplomatic crisis between Qatar and other Gulf countries. On June 7, Saudi Foreign Minister Adel al-Jubeir told reporters during a visit to Paris that Qatar must stop supporting Hamas and the Muslim Brotherhood. Keep reading.
