Do No Harm: Stories of Life, Death, and Brain Surgery is a 2014 memoir written by Henry Marsh and published by Weidenfeld & Nicolson. The book details the author's career as a neurosurgeon. Marsh's father was a human rights lawyer and his mother a refugee from Nazi Germany. Marsh finished a Bachelor's degree. When his studies finished he spent two years working in the National Archive. He spent a year in Africa teaching as a volunteer, and then studied Politics, Economics, and Philosophy at the Switch back and forth between reading the Kindle book and listening to Audible audiobook. Add the audiobook for a reduced price of $2.99 after you get the Kindle book as part of your Kindle Unlimited subscription.
