No one making "Casablanca" thought they were making a great movie. It was simply another Warner Bros. release. It was an "A list" picture, to be sure (Bogart, Bergman and Paul Henreid were stars, and no better cast of supporting actors could have been assembled on the Warners lot than Peter Lorre, Sidney Greenstreet, Claude Rains and Dooley Wilson). But it was made on a tight budget and released with small expectations. Everyone involved in the film had been, and would be, in dozens of other films made under similar circumstances, and the greatness of "Casablanca" was largely the result of hap... The screenplay was adapted from a play of no great consequence; memoirs tell of scraps of dialogue jotted down and rushed over to the set. In this hard boiled comic mystery sequel to the ever-popular Murder at Cafe Noir, ex-private eye Rick Archer is now the confused manager of Cafe Noir on the island of Mustique. He is confronted with a corpse on the dock, a mysterious femme fatale, a French blackmailer and a businessman who wants both the cafe and the woman. Rick is arrested after the blackmailer is murdered in his club. It is up to the audience to convince the magistrate that he is innocence. A tribute to Casablanca with many references to the classic movie, Noir Suspicions is guaranteed to delight audiences whether or not the Noir Suspicions. Original Production: 1992 Awards: Best of Nightlife, OC Metro. The Continuing adventures of Rick Archer, P.I. and the "Cafe Noir." Rick, now the manager of Cafe Noir on the island of Mystique, finds himself confused by a corpse at the dock, a mysteriously quiet woman, a French blackmailer, and a nefarious businessman, all seeking control of the Cafe Noir, well with the exception of the corpse of course. And what of the new owner, femme fatale Sheila Wonderly? What is her new role in the mysteries that befall the Cafe?
